

Lesson Plans: I like to use my daily schedules to make my lesson plans, because they change so quickly. I write out the schedule for the next week where ever I have time. While the kids watch cartoons, sitting in the shade at the beach, waiting for an appointment, waiting for dinner to be done, or even while my son is busy learning! Here are a couple of quick lesson plan worksheets that'll work for the beginning and end of school year records.

Beginning School Year Lesson Plans

Course Title:

School Year:

Child's Name:

Overall objective for the course:

Skills your child will learn during this course:

Approaches you will use to help your child learn these skills: